

Hair Surgery

Contributed by admin
Monday, 22 January 2007

Significantly with the improved in surgical advances, some good results are to be found in these days particularly in case of hair replacement surgery. It can be said that the ratio of hair loss in case of both men and women can be 2:3. However it is find that people in early twenties are suffering from hair loss. In fact regular shampooing, wearing hats or any other personal habits are not the real reason of hair loss.

In case of men, heredity is the most important factor of hair loss. Hair losses are affected to women because of their hormonal changes and menopause. In addition to this hair loss in case of women are chiefly responsible for female pattern changes. Even if you face experienced with accidents, burns, and disease, then you can also suffer from hair loss.

There are some different types of options for hair replacement like Hair integration systems, Non-surgical hair replacement, Hair replacement pills, Laser hair replacement, Female hair replacement and Hormone replacement. Most of these surgical methods of hair replacement are usually in the form of hair implants. The hair replacement industry has found a beautiful and miracle gift as Propecia. The feature of this Propecia is that 90% of hair growth can lead to develop in men and 66% of hair grows in men after treatment. Generally this Propecia is available in form of monthly dose which costs about $100. This is what can be applied in your hair one pill per day. If you want to use for a year to spread over your hair costs $1,200. You should ask a facial plastic surgeon before choosing hair replacement surgery. In fact they will able to provide sufficient information and varieties of options for your certain kind of hair loss. Normally hair replacement surgery is procedure that has a quick and simple effective. This replacement surgery can be performed in few hours and the patient will feel completely normal after the surgery applied. In fact during the process of surgery a local anesthetic is also applied to frozen the top of the head not to feel any pain by the patient. If you don't want to take a drug everyday to maintain your hair you may go for a major surgery like the pills. It can be said that the laser hair replacement is a middle road to hair implants. Don't worry this is also followed by a very simple process. The micro-laser will search the hair follicles and motivate the blood flow in to the scalp which leads to growth of hair. However type of hair implants is also not a less expensive which between $1,500 and $3,000. You should visit your hair in a year or in months which are not pain stacking. {mosgoogle left}